

Microbeads Update

To our current and future customers,

As you may be aware, there has been an environmental concern regarding the microbeads used in some cosmetic products. The cosmetics industry has made an agreement to reduce the usage of the microbeads with a view to stopping using over the next few years.

We take pride in creating high quality and responsible products, therefore, we are pleased to inform you that we have replaced the microbeads in all the affected Beauty Formulas products with a 100% biodegradable alternative which offers an equally effective exfoliation.

We will continue to develop high quality and responsible products under the Beauty Formulas Brand.

Best Regards,

Drammock International Ltd
